

BIAC CCEI CANADA

An International Tool for Canadian Business

The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) is the top international decision-making forum on business and economic issues. Business at OECD (BIAC) provides a platform for Canadian industry to shape policy before it is implemented domestically by governments and get leading insights on key areas affecting companies.

What is Business at OECD?

- BIAC is the official voice of business to the OECD and its member governments.
- An international business network with global membership.
- A cross-industry diverse group of businesses with a shared mission to advocate for open markets and private sector-led growth.

What a BIAC Membership Gives Your Organization:

- Policy Formulation – Involvement in consultations with OECD governments and the ability to provide expert advice, helping to shape policy recommendations in the early phases.
- An Internal Voice – A platform to engage with government officials at ministerial meetings and other OECD events.
- Leading Insight – An opportunity to be at the forefront of leading edge insight into work before it becomes implemented and enacted domestically.
- A Chance to Lead – Nomination opportunities to Chair and Vice-Chair positions on policy groups to shape BIAC policy priorities.
