

Canadian
Chamber of Commerce

Chambre de
Commerce
du Canada

The Future of Business Success
L'avenir de la réussite en affaires

Brian Humphreys

Vice Chair of the Board
Canadian Chamber of Commerce

Brian Humphreys recently retired as Vice President, Energy for Federated Co-operatives Limited (FCL) where he led the company's largest revenue-generating business unit comprised of refinery supply and the distribution and marketing of all petroleum products to the Co-op's network of 800 retail gas bars, cardlocks and bulk plants.

Prior to FCL, Brian's career included 13 years of progressive responsibility in the domestic and international upstream energy industry at Nexen Energy/CNOOC International in Calgary where his included his tenure as Vice-President, Corporate Affairs, responsible for above-ground strategies in support of conventional, unconventional and renewable portfolios and projects in North America, as well as above-ground risk assessments for new market entries globally.

His additional corporate affairs-related experience includes serving as Director Strategy and Policy, Government Affairs at Canadian Pacific Railway, Director Government Affairs at Aquila Networks Canada (later Fortis Alberta) and seven years of service at senior levels in the Government of Saskatchewan.

Brian is Vice Chair of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. His passion for the Canadian Chamber stems from a deeply held belief that the social well-being of Canadians originates from a thriving business sector and, to that end, the Canadian Chamber's important role in translating and representing the strategic imperatives of Canada's diverse business community into the mutual interest of governments, the public and other stakeholders.

As a volunteer, Brian has also served as a board member of the Canadian Fuels Association, the Canada China Business Council, the Alberta Chamber of Resources and the Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce. He was also an Advisory Council Member of the Alberta Immigrant Access Fund.

Brian earned his Bachelor of Arts from Carleton University in Ottawa and his Master of Arts from the University of Alberta in Edmonton.